3-storey BUB-funded evacuation center to benefit 617 households in Dagupan

A newly-inaugurated three-storey evacuation center funded under the Bottom-Up Budgeting Program of the Department of the Interior and Local Government (DILG) is expected to benefit 617 households of Barangay Salapingao, Dagupan City.

The spacious evacuation center can accommodate over 1,000 evacuees with basic amenities such as potable water; electricity; comfort rooms for females, males and persons with disabilities (PWDs); communal kitchen; dining and laundry area. Other equally important components include a Disaster Risk Reduction and Management (DRRM) Office, clinic infirmary, breastfeeding area, stock room and a roof deck.

City Mayor Belen T. Fernandez thanked the DILG for the BUB-funded facility.

"Malaki ang pasasalamat ko sa DILG. Dahil sa kanila, tayo po ay binigyan ng pondo mula sa Bottom-Up Budgeting at ito ang ating pinatayo", she said while addressing barangay residents during the inauguration.

The City Mayor said that the construction of the evacuation center plays a significant role in their efforts to save lives during the occurrence of any disaster.

"Ang significance ng [evacuation] center po na ito, unang-una po ay para sa ating buhay- (cont. on page 7)"

Ilocos Sur commits to a drug-free province

"We will make Ilocos Sur drug free", declares Governor Ryan Luis V. Singson during the Provincial Anti-Illegal Drugs Summit on March 22, 2017 in Vigan City.

This is in response to PDG Ronald "Bato" Dela Rosa's challenge to the officials and the people of Ilocos Sur to clear the province of illegal drugs and to manifest Ilocos Sur's steadfast commitment to make the province drug-free.

Also, the Department of the Interior and Local Government (DILG), the Liga ng Mga Barangay, Local Government Units (LGUs), the Philippine National Police (PNP), Philippine Drug Enforcement Agency (PDEA), the Department of Education (DepEd), and student leaders from different schools affirmed their 100% support and commitment in making Ilocos Sur a Drug-Free Province as they signed the Pledge of Commitment.

PNP Chief Dela Rosa, who graced the occasion, expressed support to the government's war on drugs.

"Kami po sa Pambansang Kapulisan [ay] sincere in pursuing the war against illegal drugs. With the comeback of the Double Barrel [Reloaded] Project, the police force is better prepared. We are more intensive and coordinated with our campaign, less violence. Pagbubutihan po namin ang Double Barrel Reloaded" PDG Dela Rosa emphasized.

PDG Dela Rosa further clarified that the PNP could not win the war on drugs alone.

"Magtulungan po tayong lahat. We wanted to see this war to its end. We encourage stronger support from the community. We encourage the priests and religious leaders. We also bank on the support of our barangays. We therefore expect all sectors' renewed commitment and enthusiasm in the making of a drug-free province and a drug-free nation", he added.

During the summit, LGOO VI Cesarieta R. Pestaño, Program Manager of DILG Ilocos Sur, also discussed the DILG's premier anti-drug program — the Mamamayang Ayaw sa Anomalya, Mamamayang Ayaw sa Iligal na Droga (MASA MASID). She stressed that through the program, the DILG is empowering the people to become more vigilant and help in the conduct of information education and advocacy campaigns, information gathering and reporting of illegal drugs activities, crimes and corruption.

She emphasized the role of DILG in ensuring that LGUs comply with the mandates of the law like the revitalization of anti-drug abuse councils, allocation of substantial portion of LGU budget to anti-drug activities, and formulation of anti-drug action plans.

The Summit was the biggest and largest assembly of the anti-drug advocates in the province. Present during the event are: the DILG Ilocos Sur provincial staff; key officials of the PNP, PDEA, and DepEd; provincial officials, head of offices and employees; school heads and student leaders; Civil Society Organizations (CSOs); media; and the members of the Provincial Peace and Order Council and Provincial Anti-Drug Council. Burgos is a 5th class municipality located in the province of La Union. Composed of 12 barangays, Burgos has a population of no less than 9,000 people. Farming, bamboo handicraft and soft broom production are the major sources of livelihood. Four barangays namely Lower Tumapoc, Sitio Lower Delles of Barangay Delles, Sitio Lower Agpay of Barangay Agpay and Barangay Caoayan are all situated in the lowest portion of the town, traversed by Ribsuan River.

Dreadful past

In 2009, violent typhoon Pepeng brought heavy rains which caused the river to rise and flow like a torrent, destroying the existing flood control structure and irrigation dam and wiping out 11 houses in Barangay Caoayan. Kagawad Camillo Quesada recalled how terrifying their situation was- feeling defenseless from the sturdy current and fast mounting water that all they did was to run up the hill to stay away from the water. The calamity left nothing but dreadful emotion and traumatic experience to the inhabitants of Caoayan.

Quick fix

After their recovery from the typhoon, the barangay council and the farmers came up with a speedy solution to their dilemma: utilize sand bags to construct a temporary barricade to protect the entire area from the waters and prevent soil erosion. The local government of Burgos also initiated a flood control project, but it was not enough to protect the entire slope of the area.

Then came BuB

Barangay Caoayan was among the four barangays chosen to be beneficiaries of the DILG’s Bottom Up Budgeting (BuB) in 2014. With the objectives to reduce if not eliminate the disaster risk caused by flashfloods, and to provide continuity of agricultural and aquatic activities, the council decided to use the BuB fund to strengthen and stabilize entire slope along the river. According to the Punong Barangay (PB), flood control project has always been on the top of her priority list.

Safer place

A sigh of relief was felt by the people when finally the project was finished. The people are grateful for the financial assistance provided by the national government through the BuB Program.

"Nu haan nga naprioritize datoy nga proyekto ket kagudwa siguro kadagitoy kabalbalayan iti napukaw ditoy barangay mi nu panagbabagyo. Isu nga dakkel a panagyaman iti barangay mi ta iti nakaited ti tulong iti flood control ket iti munisipyo ken BuB iti DILG."

(If this project was not prioritized, then maybe half of the households in this barangay could have been washed out during typhoons. That is why we are very thankful of the assistance given by our municipality through the BuB program of DILG) said PB Loly Ordinario.

Happy and grateful, residents are now assured of a safer place, and guaranteed a steady shield from nature’s wrath. (IO II Alethea A. Cedo)

FLOOD CONTROL SYSTEM: Building a shield from nature’s wrath

Burgos, La Union
On June 1, 2017, DILG Ilocos Norte headed by Provincial Director Reggie R. Colisao, in coordination with the Local Government of Marcos, conducted an on-site monitoring visit of the Potable Water System (PWS) Project implemented at Sitio Darasdas, Barangay Pacifico. Part of the project was the construction of water tank and pump house, laying of distribution lines, and construction of 12 tap stands which will benefit 57 households with 314 individuals.

Said project was funded under the DILG Bottom-up Budgeting Program for CY 2015 in the amount of Two Million Five Hundred Thousand Pesos (Php2.5M) with an LGU counterpart of Three Hundred Thousand Pesos (Php300,000.00).

Sitio Darasdas is one of the areas in the municipality with a problem on potable water supply per report from the Barangay Health Workers and the Municipal Health Office. The residents share with one another with existing open well or deep well as their water source.

As part of the sustainability plan of the project, Mayor Arsenio A. Agustin informed the group that he proposed a supplemental budget of Five Hundred Fifty Thousand Pesos (Php550,000.00) for the maintenance of the PWS. (LGOO V Floresita N. Sadang)

With the completion of the facility, they are now assured of a safe shelter located in an elevated area and structurally-designed to withstand strong typhoons and even earthquakes.

The evacuation center is expected to have indirect benefits to residents of two other adjacent island barangays - Lomboy and Pugaro. The land on which the facility stands was donated by Mr. Romulo O. Reyes and his family.

The multi-level facility adheres to the national standards for evacuation centers per DILG Memorandum Circular No. 2015-45, “Guidelines for the Implementation of Provision of Potable Water Supply, Local Access Road and other Local Infrastructure Projects under the Bottom-Up Budgeting”. (LGOO V Sheila Marie G. Andales)
To be nominated in the Search for PNP Model Families is already an honor for the uniformed police officers who risk their lives to protect and serve the community.”

Regional Director Evangeline R. Almirante of the National Police Commission (NAPOLCOM) emphasized this during the on-site validation conducted by the Regional Search Committee (RSC). She commended the nominees for uplifting the image of police officers as family persons and partners in community development.

The Search highlights family values, work ethics, and involvement in activities that promote positive changes in the community. It advocates the capability of police officers as partners in maintaining peace and order towards a more progressive socio-economic system. It is open to all uniformed members of the PNP with legitimate or legally adopted child/children, legally married and living together with his/her spouse for at least five (5) years, and has been in the police service for at least five (5) years at the time of the Search.

After much deliberation, SPO4 Dennis A. Juan and his family stood out as the PNP Model Family of Region 1 having ranked first among six (6) nominees. The other nominees were: SPO4 Erlinda Gagaoin of La Union; PO3 Ador Puntalba and SPO2 Emma Ruth Apostol of Pangasinan; SPO4 Myrna Almadrigo and SPO4 Cesar Ramos of Ilocos Norte.

SPO4 Juan is currently assigned at Ilocos Norte PNP Provincial Office (INPPO) and is regarded by his colleagues as a soft-spoken and generous person. His family exhibited the characteristics befitting a model family. Through his leadership, his family initiated a community outreach program which has been sustained for 17 years. Their three (3) children would save money from their allowances to be used in buying school supplies for a group of pupils in their area. They aim to do this until the selected pupils graduate from 6th Grade. Their children also stated that when they finish school, they will continue what their parents have started.

Each nominated family were rated based on: how the parents share their responsibilities in raising their children; how they show their respect for one another in the family; how they uphold moral principles; and how they are able to bring about better change in their community.

Members of the RSC interviewed the nominees and their family, their superiors and co-workers, neighbors, pastors/priests and local officials to assess which family will be nominated at the national level to vie for the title, PNP Model Family.

The RSC is chaired by Ms. Geraldine Ortega of La Union Vibrant Women, Inc. (LUVWI), with members composed of representatives from the National Police Commission (NAPOLCOM), the Department of the Interior and Local Government (DILG), Philippine National Police (PNP) and St. John Bosco College of Northern Luzon.

Members of the committee conducted the on-site validation on May 8, 2017 for La Union; May 10-11, 2017 for Ilocos Norte; and May 15-16, 2017 for Pangasinan.

All the regional nominees will be awarded in the culmination of the National Crime Prevention Week (NCPW) this coming September 2017.

Everyday is a new day. We do new tasks and we continue those left out on prior days. We encounter several events. We come across and deal with different people, new and old friends. At the end of the day, we rest. In our minds, tomorrow is another day.

Undoubtedly, this is how we spend our lives everyday – ordinary, routinary. We seem to overlook the challenges behind every event that happens, every person we come across with. One day, we’ll just wake up and be faced with a challenge. Soon, we realize that accepting the challenge is the beginning of a great opportunity.

On my part, entering in this Department began as a challenge. At first, I was hesitant to be employed at the Department due to several reasons. Commonly, I was happy and contented of where I was then, not only on the job I was assigned but more on the people whom I worked with. Further, I was apprehensive of the new environment where adjustments had to be made again, the tasks to do and the people to work with.

Anyhow, after so many considerations, I finally decided to accept the challenge. I moved out from my comfort zone and left my friends-workmates. I welcomed the opportunity to work as a government employee and be mingled with another set of friends-workmates.

I worked as an administrative staff. As expected from a public servant, I performed my work diligently. I dealt with the people around amiably and harmoniously. Events turned out favorably that soon after less than a year, I was promoted as a technical staff. I accepted all because I knew it was part of learning. In fact, it is a commitment.

Looking back at these past events, I also wonder how I came at this point. It may be due to favorable circumstances. It may be due to luck. It may be due to hardwork. Whatever it may be, to myself, I believe it is God’s will – that if it’s meant to be, God always makes a way.

Now, I am the Planning Officer. I never thought I will be one. It was not a planned career but happened along the way. I am so grateful indeed. It is really God’s will, I believe!
